

Organic lime honey

light mint note

The linden tree, the tree of poets and thinkers, exudes an enchanting scent and attracts bees until late in the evening. From the nectar and honeydew, the bees prepare a refreshing and distinctive honey speciality, which we harvest in the linden forests of the state forests in and around Berlin and in the Mark Brandenburg. Linden flowers are used in numerous herbal teas and home remedies for their beneficial properties. The bees always visit the linden blossoms at their flowering peak, namely when they are at their most perfect. The honey gets its typical taste from it, which is rounded off by a refreshing, slightly minty note.
